GENDER PAY GAP REPORT

GENDER PAY GAP

- In April 2017, the UK government introduced a new Gender Pay Gap reporting requirement for employers with 250 or more relevant employees. Employers are required to publish gender pay gap information by April 2025, based on data from April 2024. Four Seasons Hotel London at Tower Bridge identifies all genders, including biological sex, sex-based social structures and gender identity, for this report, gender is characterized by female and male, in line with the U.K. Equality Act 2010.

THE GENDER PAY GAP IS DIFFERENT TO EQUAL PAY

The Gender Pay Gap measures the difference in hourly pay between men and women, however Equal Pay measures what women and men are paid for doing the same work or similar work of equal value.

As a result, where there are fewer women in senior positions, this will result in a gender pay gap even where those women are being paid more than their male equivalents.

This report has been prepared in line with the Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017 and Equality Act 2010 (Specific Duties and Public Authorities) Regulations 2017.

HOW IS THE GENDER PAY GAP CALCULATED?

The difference between the mean hourly pay rates of men and women

The difference between the median hourly pay rates of men and women. The median is the middle value when all the values are ranged from highest to lowest

The difference between the mean bonus paid to men and women

The difference between the median bonus paid to men and women

GENDER PAY GAP AND GENDER PAY BONUS GAP

Gender Pay Gap

Gender Pay Bonus Gap

The proportion of male employees receiving a bonus is 39.2%
The proportion of female employees receiving a bonus is 58.6%.
The mean is -93.9% and the median is 0% which indicates equal pay for both men and women.

The Gender Pay Gap is a reflection of the distribution of males and females at every level of the organisation and we continue to work hard to ensure females are well represented at all levels. The mean (average) is divided equally by the number of men/women at the hotel. The median is the middle value. Four Seasons Hotel London at Tower Bridge pays the same pay for men and women in the same position.

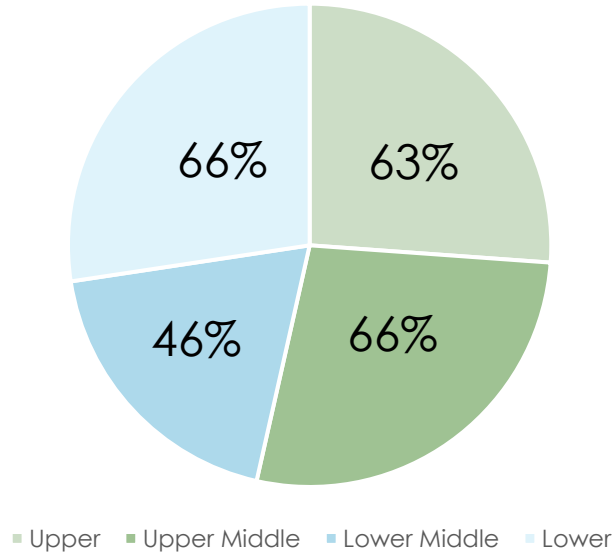

The Gender Bonus Pay Gap is a reflection of the distribution of males and females at every level of the organisation.

The Gender Bonus Gap is measured solely on those employees who were both eligible for a bonus payment and who received one. It therefore excludes individuals who may not qualify for a bonus, or have a basic higher wage because they do not receive a bonus and is relative to their position.

GENDER PAY QUARTILES

Quartile Pay Male

Quartile Pay Female

The charts above show the distribution of gender representation across the different pay quartiles in our workforce based on hourly pay rate.

The top quartile of our business comprises equal distribution between men and women. In order for there to be little or no gender pay gap, there would need to be the same ratio of men to women in each quartile band. The gap in the organisation is the Upper Middle Quartile, for males, in which we have a higher ratio of male workers than female worker in positions such as Hotel Maintenance and Culinary.

OBSERVATIONS FROM THE GENDER PAY GAP INFORMATION

- Data for April 2024 is summarised in this report. Four Seasons Hotel London at Tower Bridge pays equal pay for men and women and equal pay by position within the hotel. Service charges are not a part of the gender pay gap, and all service charges are paid directly and equally to all eligible employees.
- We continue to strive to develop our workforce with opportunities for growth with internal, external and apprenticeship learnings.

CLOSING THE GAP

- We are committed to hiring and developing women in our businesses' management and executive positions. Many of the senior roles at Four Seasons Hotel London at Tower Bridge are held by women and we remain committed to the continued development of female talent across the business at all levels in order to ensure that we narrow gender pay gaps and bonus pay gaps in future years.
- Our focus is to continue to grow a diverse and inclusive culture at Four Seasons Hotel London at Tower Bridge in order to help us understand where we can make more changes to attract, grow and retain more diverse talent, in particular, recruiting a higher proportion of women into senior roles.
