Each class is designed to be small and engaging, allowing you to learn and create at your own pace. Whether you're a beginner or looking to deepen your skills, join us in crafting beautiful, personalized pieces that you can take home and treasure.

Snowshoeing

This is the single best way to discover our winter wonderland, right in the heart of the mountains. Guided by a local expert, your adventure will take you through the wild and wondrous trails and into the snowy depths of Lost Lake, where you can learn about the old growth forests that mark the ancient valley floor. Snowshoeing is the perfect activity for families and groups, immersing participants in nature and delightful views. If you can walk, you can snowshoe, which makes this activity ideal for winter exploration.

Wood Burning Class

Discover the art of pyrography, the ancient technique of burning intricate designs onto natural surfaces like wood and leather. In this hands-on class, you'll learn how to use temperature control and specialized techniques to bring your creative visions to life. Explore different materials and mediums to find what inspires you most.

Stone Carving Class

For those who crave something more than a postcard to remember Whistler by, we offer a distinctly unique take on souvenirs: stone carving. This guided experience invites you to carve your own piece of the panoramic landscape, leaving with a hand-shaped keepsake that embodies both artistry and place. Led by a local artist, the class dives into the delicate, rhythmic art of carving raw stone.

Squamish Lil'wat Cultural Centre Guided Tours

Kayáchtñ / Kalhwá7acw / Welcome

The Squamish Lil'wat Cultural Centre offers guests the opportunity to learn more about British Columbia's Indigenous heritage, with exhibits that explore this history and the heart of Whistler's Indigenous experience. Connect with Cultural Ambassadors as they share a traditional drum song, an inspiring short film, and take guests on a guided tour of the Museum sharing stories from two distinct Nations the Skwxwú7mesh and the Lilwat7úl. Designed to evoke the form of a Squamish Longhouse and Lil'wat Istken (earthen dwelling), the SLCC embodies the spirit of partnership between two unique Nations who wish to preserve, grow, and share their traditional cultures.

Maple Taffy

The age-old ritual of maple taffy takes center stage in a sensory experience that's both nostalgic and quintessentially Canadian. In an outdoor setup that feels almost magical against Whistler's snowy landscape, you'll watch as pure, amber maple syrup is poured over fresh snow, then rolled up with wooden sticks into perfectly chewy ribbons of caramelized delight. This isn't your average winter treat—it's a taste of The True North, refined.

Global Comfort Classics

The all-day menu brings the world to your doorstep with dishes like Butter Chicken—baked chicken thighs in a spiced tomato-cashew sauce served with basmati rice and paratha—and Nasi Goreng, a take on Indonesian fried rice with chicken satay, fried egg, and prawn crackers. More traditional offerings, like the Club Sandwich with grilled chicken, fried egg, bacon, and cheddar, showcase Chef Sajish’s knack for refining classics with top-notch ingredients.

Wagyu Short Ribs

With Chef Sajish at the helm, the new in-room dining menu at Four Seasons Whistler turns every meal into one you'll want to order again... and again and again and again. We sat down with Chef Sajish to ask him a few questions.

What was the inspiration behind this new in-room dining menu?

We wanted to create a menu that felt intimate and universal, something that brings together favorite comfort foods from around the world. Whistler is such an international destination, so we thought it was the perfect place to let our guests explore familiar flavors, but with a global twist that reflects both Whistler's spirit and our own culinary inspiration.

How did you go about choosing the specific dishes?

Each dish was chosen with the guest experience in mind. We looked at what foods provide comfort—simple, flavorful, and grounding. But we didn't want the dishes to be predictable. For instance, the Butter Chicken and Nasi Goreng bring in those bold international flavors, while dishes like the Shakshuka or the Salmon with Miso Broth feel sophisticated yet homely. It's comfort food elevated with care.

What dish should guests not miss?

The Wagyu Short Rib is special. It's deeply rich but made with real finesse. And for breakfast, the Avocado Bee Pollen plate brings together nutrient-dense ingredients with a beautiful presentation that feels as nourishing as it is luxurious – our honey even comes from our very own resident bees.

APRÈS IN WHISTLER

The renowned Whistler après – more than just a post-ski tradition —sits as a beloved ritual to be enjoyed by locals and visitors alike. Mountain life calls for celebration, and after a day on 7th Heaven or an afternoon of relaxation at The Spa, the art of unwinding is best experienced at Braidwood Tavern. Equal parts cozy cabin and fun, Braidwood strikes the perfect balance between rustic warmth and style, creating an après-ski scene that feels both vibrant and distinctly refined.

Settle into Braidwood’s inviting ambiance with a curated lineup of local craft beers from British Columbia’s most celebrated breweries. The Tavern’s signature cocktail menu takes après to a new level, drawing on our expert bartenders experience for inspiration. Sip on creations infused with the crisp essence of Okanagan apples or herbaceous notes from locally foraged ingredients, each cocktail an ode to our amazing craftsmanship.

Elsewhere in Whistler Village, the après culture is equally magnetic. At Garibaldi Lift Co. (GLC), perched above the Whistler Gondola, guests gather on a tiered outdoor terrace complete with gas fireplaces, sipping local brews and taking in the mountain views from one of Whistler’s most iconic spots. For a slightly more intimate scene, Bar Oso offers alpine-inspired cocktails and Spanish tapas, making it the perfect destination for those craving a chic twist on the experience.

Tasting Flight | 4 Beer Flight at Braidwood Tavern

For those seeking a more avant-garde après experience, Après Après (after the after) transforms the space into Whistler’s evening hotspot. With live DJ sets and a social atmosphere that feels both lively and intimate, this is where mountain-goers come together to toast the day in style. Yet, for those who lean towards style and sophistication, The Library by The Macallan is a Whistler hidden gem. This library-inspired bar, designed in collaboration with The Macallan, is an homage to whisky, boasting one of Whistler’s largest collections of rare and exclusive bottles. Surrounded by rich wood tones, an open fireplace, and limited seating, The Library is an invitation to savor exceptional whisky, offering a carefully curated selection that caters to every palate—from rare single malts for the connoisseur to unique, approachable blends for the curious.
